

BUSH BLEW UP IN SIXTH INNING: YANKS IN LEAD

RECEIVERHIP TALK FOR MID WEST FUTILE

Company Is Solvent And In Stronger Position Now

Chicago, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The entire directorate of the Middle West Utilities Co., the billion dollar holding company for public utilities formerly operated by Samuel Insull in 32 states, has resigned, and the receivers announced, has been replaced by a smaller board consisting of presidents of the system's leading subsidiaries.

Announcement of the change was made last night by Edward N. Hurley and Charles A. McCulloch, receivers in equity for the Middle West, which serves 6,300,000 customers in the United States and Canada.

In addition they said, fifteen of the holding company's sixteen officers, who served under the Insull regime, have been dropped. Oliver E. McCormick, treasurer, was the only official retained.

The new directorate of ten will serve with Graver C. Neff, recently installed as President. Neff, like all the members of his new board, was head of an operating company before assuming his present duties.

Insulls Replaced
Among the fifteen directors replaced were Samuel Insull, now in Paris; his brother, Martin, now in Canada; and Samuel Insull, Jr., en route to Paris.

The receivers branded all talk of bankruptcy for the Middle West as "poppycock." They reiterated their statement that the holding concern was solvent and said its 42 operating subsidiaries are now in a stronger cash position than at any time in the past five years.

Two of Samuel Insull's investment trusts, the Corporation Securities Company and the Insull Utility Investments, Inc., were adjudged bankrupt after their receivers had disappeared of salvaging anything for stockholders who had invested $300,000,000.

State's Attorney John A. Swanson had ordered three men high in the councils of the old Insull organization to appear at his office today for questioning concerning their own and Samuel Insull's financing. They were Marshall E. Sampson, one of the deposed Middle West directors; P. J. McEnroe and John F. O'Keefe both former officers of Insull Utility Investments, Inc., and Corporation Securities Company.

Meanwhile, auditors of the U. S. Bureau of Investigation were at work seeking to determine if any federal laws had been violated in the conduct of the investment trusts.

Lindy Kidnaping Suspect Is Held

Harrisburg, Ill., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Dennis Lawrence, 30, was held in jail here today for questioning in the Lindbergh kidnaping case. He was arrested at Marion last night by Sergeant E. J. Gibbons of the State Highway Police.

His wife and two children were with him in a sedan bearing the New Jersey license P-38398. The car was purchased March 11. The arrest was made on an anonymous letter mailed to Col. Charles Lindbergh, Trenton, N. J. The letter was forwarded to Illinois Highway Police and given to Sergeant Gibbons. Gibbons said Lawrence was a photographer in Passaic, N. J., March 1. He purchased the automobile and left there about March 28.

The anonymous letter, he said, was written by a woman. Lawrence conducted a studio at Metropolis two weeks ago. He told officials he intended to go to Chicago from here.

Confidence Pair Sentenced Today

Belvidere, Ill., Sept. 28.—(AP)—John Foley Campbell whom authorities believe to be Robert Lee of Litchfield, Ill., was today sentenced to a year in the state penitentiary on a charge of obtaining money from banks on false pretenses. His companion, Alice White, who also used the name of John Thomas, was sentenced to serve 30 days in the Boone county jail.

They pleaded guilty yesterday to four indictments. One charged them with obtaining money from banks on false pretenses, and the others were: falsifying checks, conspiracy and forgery.

Boone county officials said the woman was apparently the tool of the man and recommended the lighter sentence.

HURRICANE TOLL IN PUERTO RICO MOUNTING HOURLY

Over 1000 Injured In the Storm: Tremendous Property Damage

Washington, Sept. 28.—(AP)—President Hoover today expressed his sympathy for the victims of the disaster and asked an immediate report in order that relief measures might be instituted.

BULLETIN
Washington, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Governor Paul M. Pearson of the Virgin Islands today notified Secretary Wilbur that the "full force of the West Indian hurricane hit the Virgin Islands." He reported no lives lost on St. Thomas Island.

San Juan, Puerto Rico, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Deaths from the hurricane which struck Puerto Rico early yesterday mounted into the hundreds today as reconstruction crews cleared away the debris while the storm roared on toward Santo Domingo and Haiti.

Governor James R. Beverley placed the number of dead at 200 last night and the injured at 1,000, but he said this estimate undoubtedly would be revised upward.

In the meantime, reports from Santo Domingo, before communications were closed down last night said the storm destroyed a number of houses at San Pedro de Macoris, about 50 miles from there. It reached Santo Domingo at 8:30 p. m., but no damage was done up to that hour.

Santo Domingo was struck two years ago by one of the most disastrous hurricanes in the history of the Caribbean, in which the city was practically wiped out and over 3,000 were killed.

Big Property Damage.
Reports from Havana late last night quoted authorities at the National Observatory as saying the storm passed over or near Santo Domingo, moving northeastward at a rate of 12 miles an hour.

Property damage in the wake of the storm, officials estimated, would run into many millions of dollars. The heaviest damage was to the coffee plantations which had just begun to bear again this year after having been flattened by the disastrous storm of four years ago.

The citrus fruit crop, worth about $7,000,000 would be a total loss, observers said.

Governor Beverley instructed the Emergency Relief Committee to begin at once to find shelter and food for the many thousands left destitute and homeless. He promised insular funds would be supplied today, pending a definite relief program.

SETTLEMENT IN DAMAGE ACTION AGAINST DIXON

Owners Of Property Pay $200 Damages: City Atty. Praised

After a jury of twelve men had been selected in the Circuit Court yesterday afternoon to try the damage suit brought by Mrs. Emily Westhoff of Rockford against the city of Dixon for alleged injuries sustained in stepping into a defective coal hole on Second street, the attorneys deliberated when court reconvened in the afternoon and effected a settlement. The original suit was for $5,000 and a settlement amounting to $200 was said to have been effected by the heirs of the estate, which formerly belonged to the late Dr. Stevens of this city, on which the coal hole is located.

At the regular weekly meeting of the city council last evening, Commissioner H. A. Brooks commended City Attorney Martin Gannon for the manner in which the suit against the city had been handled and the damages assessed against the owners of the property. He stated that property owners who permitted defective openings and obstructions on the streets and sidewalks were subject to damages in the event of personal injuries and said that the city was not liable in such action. Mayor Dixon further stressed this stand by adding that coal holes, area ways and other openings in streets and sidewalks were subject to the inspection and upkeep of the property owners.

Commissioner George Campbell favored the passage of a city ordinance which would require any property owner maintaining coal holes, areaways or other opening in the city streets and sidewalks, to post a sufficient bond with the city to cover damages which might be sustained by pedestrians. City Attorney Gannon told the council that he was engaged in the preparation of such an ordinance at this time.

Tree Removal Campaign
Commissioner John Loftus presented to the council a plan of city-wide tree trimming and removal campaign which he has worked out with the cooperation of the Illinois Northern Utilities and the Dixon Home Telephone companies. He told the council that in many places throughout the city property owners had asked to have trees removed or trimmed, adding that there was a plentiful supply of men in Dixon who would gladly do this work for the wood that they would obtain. It was decided to have any citizens who have trees to be removed or trimmed to notify the city clerk's office and men will be assigned to do the work.

Commissioner Brooks presented a written motion calling attention to the fact that the city has no suitable place in the city building for the detention of transient women and children, who may be

"PROMISE KEPT" THEME OF ROAD MEETING TODAY

People Of East Part Of the County Heard Story Of Roads

Editor's Note—Governor Small and several other noted Republican speakers will address a meeting of voters of Dixon and community at the Dixon Theatre at 7:30 o'clock this evening. All voters are invited and urged to hear a fair presentation of the issues of the campaign.

Shabbona, Ill., Sept. 28.—Here at a dedication of the completion of a link in State Highway No. 71, plans for which were laid under his previous administration, Len Small, former Governor of Illinois and the Republican nominee again for that office, told an audience some of the story of how he built 7,000 miles of paved highway at a saving of $10,000 a mile in his successful program to "pull Illinois out of the mud."

Mr. Small stopped here with other candidates on the Republican state ticket, who are covering the state in a motor caravan as part of the intensive campaigning the G. O. P. has begun in Illinois. Discussing his road-building record, Mr. Small said:

"I would recall to your minds that in 1920, I promised to pull Illinois out of the mud. You recall that during my administration, Illinois became the best-paved state in the United States, and the best paved area in the world. Seven thousand miles of paved highways were constructed, connecting nearly every city and village with every other city and village in our state. The result was not only to improve our state phys-

Find Amboy Youth Died Accidentally

Willard F. Nowe, 17, popular Amboy high school student, accidentally strangled himself while performing experiments with rope and tackle in the barn at the home of his parents on September 13, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury at the second inquest into the youth's death, held in Amboy yesterday.

Coroner Frank Banker, Franklin Grove, reopened the inquest at the request of prominent local citizens and witnesses.

L. S. Griffith, insurance agent, Paul Dyer, friend of the youth, and Dr. W. T. Holladay, who testified at the first inquest, repeated their testimony today.

SMALL CHARGES CHICAGO TIMES LIBELLED HIM

Asks $250,000 Damages In Suit Against Newspaper Today

(Telegraph Special Service)
Kankakee, Sept. 28.—Former Gov. Len Small today filed suit in the Circuit court at Kankakee against the publishers and distributors of the Chicago Daily Times for $250,000 for libel in connection with an article which appeared in that newspaper September 21, in which a vicious attack is made upon him, charging him with taking silverware and other equipment from the state mansion at Springfield when he retired as Governor in 1929. The paper was distributed in Kankakee, Chicago and other neighboring cities.

Former Governor Small said today: "I am tired of this systematic lying and falsehoods and have made up my mind to legally prove their statements are false. This is a vicious attack of the Democrats to ruin me by lies and accusations and thereby detract from the accomplishments of my former administrations."

"They hope by slander, lies and insinuations to divert the attention of the people and believe they can fool them into voting the Democratic ticket by this kind of propaganda."

"I understand that they are offering to pay the newspapers that will print this libelous stuff and I serve notice that every person who prints these lies will be called into court to prove them."

"Furthermore, Cernak, nor his tools can bluff, brow-beat nor bulldoze me into giving up this campaign. They realize that the sentiment throughout the state is overwhelming against the Cernak ticket and that I will be elected. This is their last resort and a desperate effort to stem the tide against the Democratic ticket."

The suit was filed by Attorneys Wener W. Schroeder of Chicago and Charles W. Kurtz of Kankakee.

CUBS FIRST TO SCORE IN FIRST GAME OF BIG WORLD SERIES IN NEW YORK TODAY

"Mississippi Mudcat" Lost All Control In Sixth Frame

Start of the game was delayed when a sudden rain squall drove the players from the field at 1:20 P. M. as they were finishing their practice. The rain came unexpectedly after a misty wet morning had given way to a bright sun and balmy afternoon. Field attendants immediately laid tarpaulins on the base paths and covered the pitching and batting boxes while the smallest crowd in the history of a Yankee series game, estimated at no more than 35,000, huddled back to await developments.

FIRST INNING
Cubs—Herman singled over second and scored on English's single to right when the ball got away from Ruth, English going to third. Cuyler fanned. Stephenson singled over Ruffing's head, scoring English. Moore fanned. So did Grimm, swinging at fast ones. Two runs, three hits, one error, one left.

Yanks—Combs fanned taking a third called strike. Sewell fouled out to Grimm. Grimm took Ruth's hard smash and beat him to bag. No runs.

SECOND INNING
Cubs—Hartnett fanned. Ruffing threw out Koenig on a quick play. Bush grounded out to Gehrig. No runs.

Yanks—Herman threw out Gehrig. Lazzeri bounced weakly to Bush who threw him out. Dickey hoisted to Cuyler. No runs.

THIRD INNING
Cubs—Herman out, Ruffing to Gehrig. English was thrown out by Sewell. Cuyler singled over short and stole second. Stephenson flied to Combs in short center. No runs, one hit, one left.

Yanks—Chapman flied to Stephenson. Crosetti fanned. Ruffing flied to Stephenson. No runs.

FOURTH INNING
Cubs—Moore lifted to Sewell. Grimm fanned for the second time. Hartnett doubled to the left field boxes. Koenig was purposely passed by Bush worked the count to three and two and walked, filling the bases. Chapman made a nice running catch of Herman's fly near the left field foul line. No runs, one hit, three left.

Yanks—Combs drew a pass, the first Yankee to reach first, and went to second on Sewell's bounder to Grimm, who juggled the ball long enough to prevent a play at second. Grimm got his man at first. Combs scored on Ruth's hard smash that went through Grimm's legs like a rifle shot. With two strikes on him, Gehrig smashed a home run into the right field bleachers, scoring Ruth ahead of him. English threw out Lazzeri. Bush threw out Dickey. Three runs, two hits.

FIFTH INNING
Cubs—English and Cuyler fanned. Stephenson flied to Combs. No runs.

Yanks—Chapman was safe on English's fumble of his grounder. Crosetti bunted and Hartnett threw wide to second on the sacrifice, both runners being safe. It was a sacrifice and no error was charged against Hartnett. Ruffing bunted and Chapman was forced at third, Hartnett to English. Combs hits into a double play. Herman to Koenig to Grimm. No runs, one error, one left.

SIXTH INNING
Cubs—Moore flied to Sewell near the pitcher's box. Grimm walked on four straight balls. Hartnett fanned. Koenig out, Lazzeri to Gehrig. No runs, one left.

Yanks—Sewell, Ruth and Gehrig walked in succession filling the bases. The Cubs held a council of war and decided to let Bush stick to his guns. Lazzeri flied to Koenig. Sewell and Ruth scored on a line single to center by Dickey. Gehrig going to third. Gehrig scored on Chapman's roller to Herman, who threw wide to the plate. It was a fielder's choice. Dickey reached second. Crosetti walked, again filling the bases and Grimes replaced Bush on the mound for the Cubs. Ruffing grounded to Koenig and Dickey was forced at the plate. Koenig to Hartnett. Chapman and Crosetti scored on Combs' sharp single to center, Ruffing going to third. Grimm threw Sewell's bounder to Koenig to force Combs. Five runs two hits, two left.

SEVENTH INNING
Cubs—Grimes fanned. Herman singled over second. Combs made a flyer in Ruth's territory. Crosetti

IOWA FARMERS DENIED PERMIT FOR BIG MARCH

Say They'll Parade In Des Moines Despite Officials

Picketing of highways by farmers continued at scattered points in the country today as leaders of the farm holiday movement in Iowa prepared to stage receptions for President Hoover and Governor Roosevelt.

The receptions, which the leaders declare will be orderly, will be parades in which several thousand farmers are expected to participate. Their purpose will be to call attention of the Republican and Democratic presidential nominees to the farmers' demands.

While Gov. Roosevelt is in Sioux City Thursday, he will have the opportunity of witnessing a parade by the farmers who staged the first demonstration of strike activities with an air tight embargo on agricultural shipments into the city.

Another demonstration is planned in Des Moines, Oct. 4, when President Hoover is scheduled to open his campaign for re-election. The city council has declined to act on the request for a parade permit, declaring it feared an outbreak of petty disturbances. Holiday Association leaders have assured them, however, the parade will be orderly and yesterday Milo Reno, President of the National Farmers Holiday Association, declared if the permit is not granted "we will be there anyway."

In New York City, where farmers have threatened to withhold 35 per cent of the city's milk supply, affairs were apparently approaching a compromise.

Simpson Declared Winner In Primary

Chicago, Sept. 28.—(AP)—James Simpson, Jr., has won the court contest for the Republican nomination for Congress from the Tenth Illinois district.

The nomination was awarded the young social registerite in a decision handed down yesterday by Circuit Judge Thomas J. Lynch who spent two hours hearing the case.

State Representative Ralph E. Church had been declared the winner in the original canvass by 73 votes. The court held that a number of votes had been illegally cast and voided a number illegally cast had been initiated by a clerk instead of a judge. Judge Lynch held Simpson was the victor by 34 votes.

Church announced he plans to run as an independent against Slapson and Charles H. Weber, the Democratic nominee. The Tenth district includes the northern part of the city of Chicago and Cook county, and all of Lake county.

THREE MEMBERS BRITISH CABINET RESIGNED POSTS

Result Of Disagreement Over Approved Tariff Proposals

London, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Three of the important Liberal and Labor members of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's eleven-month-old National cabinet resigned today following a disagreement over the tariff proposals approved at the recent Imperial Trade Conference at Ottawa.

The three who resigned are Viscount Snowden of Ickneshaw, Lord Privy Seal, former Labor Party leader who followed his colleague, the Prime Minister, into the National cabinet last November, and two noted Liberals, Sir Herbert Samuel, Home Secretary, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary for Scotland.

The resignations marked the first break in the National government, which was chosen from all three leading parties to meet the financial crisis which Great Britain faced last October.

The Liberal leaders and Viscount Snowden objected to the tariff proposals as incompatible with their free trade principles.

Break Foreseen
The Cabinet met in a tense special session at 11 A. M. for final consideration of the threatened break, which has been foreseen for several days. The session lasted two hours. The Prime Minister and a majority of the Cabinet members declared the free traders' proposal to delay presentation of the Ottawa agreements "impracticable."

The three members immediately resigned and the Cabinet adjourned until 2:30 P. M.

There was every indication that the Prime Minister would remain in power, the unexpected happened and the Prime Minister resigned, King George, under customary procedure would call Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader, to form a new cabinet.

To Clarify Situation
The governments position will be clarified at the afternoon session. The vacated posts.

Political observers took it for granted that the Prime Minister will be able to reform the ministry. It was thought that his appointments probably have been made already.

Seven junior ministerial officials were involved in the Liberal breakaway. Most of the big names in politics, including that of Lord Reading, have been mentioned as possibilities for filling the cabinet vacancies.

FARMER DEBTORS TO GOVT. TO PAY QUARTER OF LOAN

Hoover Issues Orders To Let Rest "Ride" For Congress

Washington, Sept. 28.—(AP)—It was announced at the White House today that farmers owing crop production loans to the government would be asked to pay only 25 per cent of the amount due, with an agreement to secure the remaining 75 per cent on whatever terms Congress may authorize.

Present low prices on farm products, the statement said, would make it "practically impossible for wheat farmers to repay their crop production on loans without incurring grave risk of need during the winter."

On September 14, Secretary Hyde said he had been authorized by the President to say the Agriculture Department would not press for collection of its feed and seed loans until Congress had an opportunity to act.

The White House statement today said this order had not solved the difficulties in all localities, since it had been construed as meaning that a claim remained upon the crop, preventing the marketing of any part of it.

After further consultation with the President, the statement added, Secretary Hyde had issued a new order to accept from farmers 25 per cent of the amount due, and upon receiving such payments to press for no further money from the farmers involved until Congress has acted.

Board Of Trade In Appeal To Courts

Chicago, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Striking again at a federal commission which said it must either admit the Farmers National Grain Corporation or close for 60 days, the Chicago Board of Trade filed in the United States Court of Appeals brief denying the commission had jurisdiction.

The brief, filed yesterday to support the board's appeal from the closing order, said the litigation should be handled by a "court of competent jurisdiction" instead of the Secretary of Agriculture who is a party to the action.

The College of Cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church is made up of 70 members.

Equipose, Cornelius Vanderbilt's Whitney's great four-year-old, was considered a "coll" as a yearling.

THRUSH

THE deep green twilight of the wood is shattered by the slow footsteps of the summer rain.
The star-flower's small white pointed bloom is scattered
Upon the dripping moss.

Soft with rain, until the bright cries seize
My heart and break it with one last wild note!

Chicago, Sept. 28.—(AP)—After Thanksgiving what? More turkey? The answer would be "no" if Mrs. Clara Snyder of the American Poultry Institute has her own way.

She would emancipate the American public from eating turkey hash for a week after Thanksgiving.

Keep Arms Fit With Exercises

The broad-shouldered effect is the smartest line for autumn. Full sleeves are taking regular bagfuls of tricks, too.

But if the arm that hides in a voluminous sleeve is larger than it should be, the effect is lost, for somehow, or other, the arm is heavy. A sleeve is a sleeve and may keep some charm concealed in its depths, but an arm must be alluringly slender.

Massage is the easiest way to reduce arms. However if you want to exercise your muscles, in the hope that you will destroy the fat tissues, place your arms at your sides. Now, keeping your arms close to your body, stretch them in front, raise them over your head, and stretch them in back. This exercise merely relaxes and stretches the muscles.

Try exercising your arms. Now and then a girl who doesn't exercise makes the excuse that she doesn't want to be muscular, and prefers that the surplus flesh stay on her arms. The remedy, said she, "is to sell the turkey in portions instead of making the customer take a whole turkey."

as it is rather than grow hard.

If your exercise is consistent and systematic you need not let this problem worry you. Your arms will grow firm and hard without ridges of unsightly muscles. If you are going in for some one exercise in an extreme fashion that is another matter.

Tennis and swimming, if indulged in moderately, will help your arms grow graceful.

House work, which many people say is too prosaic to have any weight on a beauty curriculum, will help you if you let it. Have some music playing while you are washing the breakfast dishes and running the sweeper over the floor in the rooms. Your movements will grow rhythmic. The work will be entertaining. Your hands will respond more firmly to their hold on tasks. Your arms will react in the same manner. Housework, if managed efficiently, will show you that it has its points—and they aren't all domestic ones, either.

Monthly Meeting Fri-Lo-Ha Class

The Fri-Lo-Ha class of the Christian Sunday school held its monthly meeting at the church Monday evening, Sept. 26.

A delicious picnic supper was enjoyed before the meeting. There was an exceptionally large number present—there being twenty-three members and ten guests present. Rev. Barnett and his wife being among the guests of honor.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Catherine Preston. The class song "On Fri-Lo-Ha" was then sung by all. Treasurer's report by Miss Edna Mossholder. Minutes of the last meeting by the secretary, Miss Helen Mae Fish. Committee appointments by the president, Miss Catherine Preston.

A new member, Miss Grace Gelchrist, was welcomed into the class by the president.

A song, "Just One More Friend" was sung by the members of the class for the new member.

Prayer—Miss Leona Ott. Miss Ott was then elected teacher of the class. The class has been without a regular teacher since the resignation of their loyal and faithful teacher, Mrs. A. S. Derr.

Devotions were led by Miss Virginia Schumacher. Questions upon the Apostles were asked the girls. Rev. Barnett was very helpful to the girls in seeking the answer to the questions.

Miss Ott then asked the girls what characteristics they expected a leader to have according to Bible verses. Some very fine characteristics were given by the girls.

The meeting then adjourned after having a very enjoyable meeting and supper.

Misses Hofmann, Anderson, Buckaloo, Hostesses

On Tuesday the Misses Lucille Hofmann, Josephine Anderson and Margaret Buckaloo were hostesses at a most delightful luncheon and linen shower at the Coffee House, honoring Miss Dorothy Prescott, who is soon to wed W. R. Hardy. There were guests for three tables.

The decorations for the luncheon were in the attractive color combination of pink and blue, the flowers, the favors and the tallies all harmonizing daintily.

Mrs. C. A. Buchner, Jr., was awarded the favor for high honors in bridge; Mrs. Lyle Prescott received the second favor and Miss Jane Hofmann received the consolation favor.

Miss Prescott was the recipient of many handsome pieces of linen for the linen chest of the home. It was spanned by the happy good wishes of the guests present.

To Enjoy Around the-World Tour

Dr. C. G. Pool of Compton is spending considerable time these days making preparations for his around-the-world tour with his daughter, Mrs. Vera Hosper of Dixon, and husband, Dr. Cornelius Hosper. Last Monday Dr. Pool negotiated with Charles G. Gardner, traveling passenger agent of the Dollar Steamship Company, Chicago, for his tour, to be made on this line. Dr. Pool stated he would leave here the latter part of November, to sail on the President Garfield, from New York City, December first. They would sail via the Panama canal, around to San Francisco, where they would stop for a few days, then go on to Honolulu, leaving the President Garfield at Tokyo, Japan, to pick up the President Polk, eight days later, to continue their trip to India, Holy Lands, Egypt, Venice, Rome. The whole trip will consume about eight months.

Lee Co. W.C.T.U. Convention Held In Steward M. E. Chu.

The Lee County W. C. T. U. convention was held in the Steward M. E. church on Friday, September 23. Large delegations were present from the four Unions of the county—Amboy, Dixon, Steward and Franklin Grove. Those representing the local organization were Mrs. C. W. Lahman, president; Mrs. Minnie Lahman, Mrs. W. B. Holley, Mrs. Romanza Greeley, Mrs. H. W. Hicks, Mrs. Grace Withers, Mrs. Ira Buck, Mrs. J. E. Wolf and Mrs. Elizabeth Sunday.

The meeting was called to order at 10 A. M. by the county president, Mrs. Charlotte Merrow of Amboy. Devotions were led by Mrs. O. N. Strock of Dixon. Repeating the pledge of allegiance to the flag and the singing of America followed. Mrs. Job Moore of Steward gave a cordial "welcome" to the convention, and Mrs. Edith Fell of Amboy gave the "response" in a few fitting words. Then came the yearly reports of the several unions followed by the annual report of the county treasurer, Mrs. Gladys Gross. Rev. Job Moore, pastor of the Steward church, then gave a very interesting talk. He began by saying that there was nothing new to be said concerning the prohibition situation, yet he presented several facts in such a way that new trains of thought were started in the minds of all present. He spoke of the need of more real thinking and of the importance of all Christian churches being consecrated to the good of the nation. He spoke of conditions existing in Canada, under government control, of which he had been an eye witness. He pointed out the responsibility of so-called "high society" in the matter of non-observance of the prohibition law. He said he believed that the women voters of the nation would be the ones who would save the day, and urged that faith and works both be brought to bear upon the situation confronting us as a nation and a people.

Election of officers resulted thus:

President—Mrs. Alma Lewis, of Amboy; vice president—Miss Carrie Morgan, Dixon; recording secretary—Mrs. C. W. Lahman, Franklin Grove; corresponding secretary—Miss Carrie Swartz, Dixon; treasurer—Mrs. Gladys Gross, Amboy; auditor—Mrs. Minnie Lahman, Franklin Grove.

Mrs. Sunday of Franklin Grove, Mrs. Lewis of Amboy and Mrs. Rapp of Steward were appointed as Committee on Resolutions.

After noon-tide prayer, all adjourned to the basement dining-room where a sumptuous picnic dinner was served, cafeteria style, and thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Immediately following came the executive board session, at which time Mrs. J. E. Wolf was appointed county Director of Temperance and Missions and Mrs. W. B. Holley was re-appointed County Director of Flower Mission and Relief.

Then came the main session of the afternoon. Mrs. Greeley of Franklin Grove led the devotions. Special musical number were a vocal duet by Mrs. Ira Buck and

Mrs. J. E. Wolf of Franklin Grove, also a vocal solo by Mrs. Archie Klein of Dixon. The president then introduced Miss Edna Marshall of Evanston, State Corresponding Secretary of the W. C. T. U. She gave a very interesting and helpful address packed full of facts concerning the present prohibition situation. She said:

"We need to work all together, at the same time, for the same thing; forgetting personalities and possible jealousies, praying ever and always for grace, courage and guidance in the task which is before us." Also, "Don't repeat what your read without giving it intense and intelligent thought." She spoke of the need of education everywhere, concerning the effects of alcohol on the physical, moral, social and economical life of the nation. She urged the co-operation of the schools in this matter, and praised the insistence of State Superintendent Blair that scientific temperance instruction be given in all public schools as required by the laws of the state of Illinois.

An interesting discussion followed, and after the reading of the report of the resolutions committee, the convention was adjourned by the W. C. T. U. benediction. Many appreciative words were heard of the fine hospitality extended by the Steward W. C. T. U. and we shall all look forward to meeting there again some day.

Attend the Ex-Governor Small meeting tonight at the Dixon Theatre.

BUT REFUSES TO PAY TAXES LIKE
REST OF STATE.

(Aledo Times Record)

Every now and then a feature story drifts into the newspapers about the tramp who was taken from a soup line, searched and found to be carrying more than $7,000 sewed into his ragged coat. For some reason that story comes to mind as the state legislature digs into a new battle over the proposed $36,000,000 additional emergency relief fund, $31,496,000 of which would be used in Cook county.

What is the matter with Chicago? Why must her hand always be feeling around in the pocketbook of the rest of Illinois and why is it that her city and county officials are viewed with suspicion by the rest of the state? Why is it that her citizens do not pay their taxes like those of Mercer or 100 other counties? In other words, why can't Chicago be trusted?

Chicago already owes the state 44 millions in back taxes. She has frittered away 29 millions more that the rest of the state will have to pay and now she expresses surprise that the "hay seeds" outside of Cook county are rebelling at her new demand for $36,000,000 more. She sees no reason why there should be any complaint about running her bill up to a total of $1,040,000,000, which, by the way, is considerably more than she ever expects to pay back.

When the present legislature turned over the first $20,000,000 to Chicago, she was filled with gratitude and thanksgiving. The political hatchet was buried under an avalanche of good feeling. Mayor Cermak assured the legislature that he would work for the passage of the bond issue and so would the Democratic candidate for governor. So would the Chicago newspapers and Chicago in general. But if any of those ever have advocated the passage of the bonds to repay the loan they have done so in whispers. To many observers it is all too evident that Chicago hopes to see the bond issue defeated and intends to let the rest of the state pay her bill.

Then Chicago received a loan of $9,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Although it is not generally known, this is a loan to the state of Illinois, and the citizens of the state who will have to repay it are in all probability those living on farms downstate.

Loudly Chicago is backing the proposed sales tax which would bring many millions of dollars into the state treasury to be drained off for her benefit. But there must be no income tax, because that would catch the millionaires of Chicago. It is far better that fathers of large families pay a tax on bread for their children than that a Chicago financial magnate be taxed on his "balloon type" income.

Chicago is bankrupt. She has no more credit than a street-corner tramp. Illinois is broke or at least badly bent from paying Chicago bills. Apparently Chicago does not intend to rest until she has ruined the credit of the state as well and saddled its taxpaying citizens with a load of debt that will crush and ruin them.

What is wrong with Chicago? Just one thing. She refuses to pay her taxes. Her government is evidently so crooked and graft-ridden that her taxing machinery has broken down completely. If, like the rest of them state, she paid into the state treasury and into her own till what she rightfully owes, she would be able to feed her own poor as does Mercer county and Illinois would be the solvent state it should be.

It is about time Illinois administered a sound spanking to that big, overgrown, spoiled child of hers. Many a spoiled child has thrown an honest parent into bankruptcy.

Doubtless in some of Chicago's cut-rate restaurants there are signs that read something like this: "If you can't pay, don't eat." It's about time a similar sign was hung on the state treasury for the benefit of Chicago.

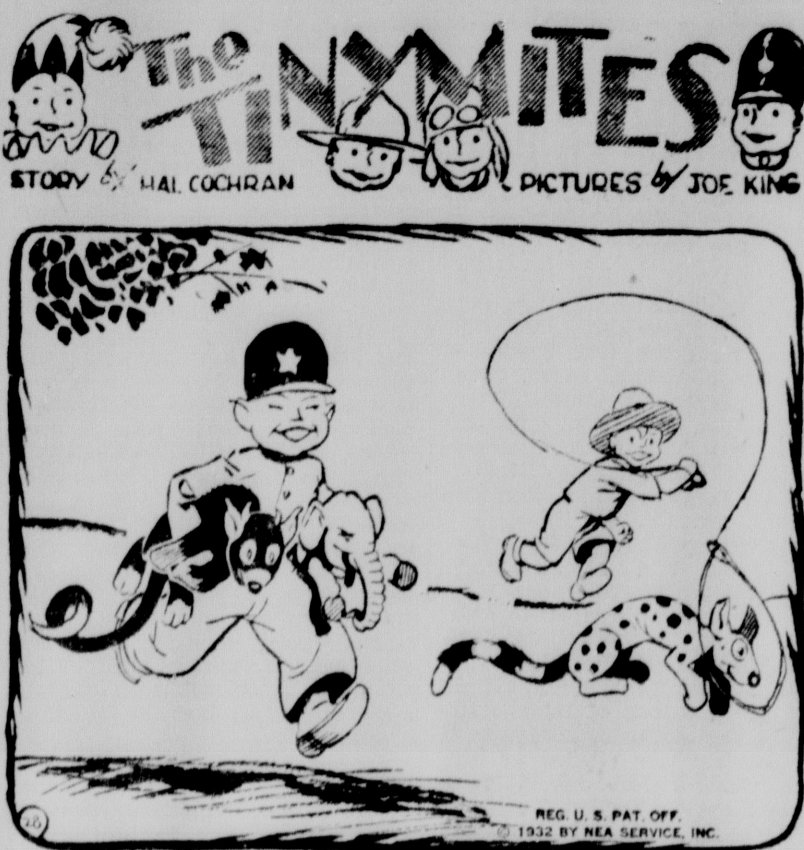

COLLEGE AND THE PAY CHECK.

One of the reasons commonly given in advising a young man to go to college is that a college training will help him to succeed, later on, in a business career. But Dr. John Wilcox, of the faculty of Detroit City College freshmen at that institution this fall with the assertion that that is the poorest of all reasons for getting collegiate training.

"If I had a brainy boy and wanted him to make money, I'd refuse to educate him," he said. "A good education should teach him not to sacrifice his life to money making. I can't make money. I don't want to badly enough. Why do you think I can teach you to make it?"

Here is a note that ought to be sounded a bit oftener by our educators. After you are graduated from college you may land in a well-paid job and you may not; but the success or failure of your college training does not in the least depend on the salary you are getting 10 years later.

We are nearing the crossroads at which the fatal decision must be taken—for peace and disarmament—or for a renewal of mad competition in armaments and ultimate war.—Arthur Henderson, president Geneva disarmament conference.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The animals that Duncy had set free all seemed to feel real glad. They started making funny noises, as they raced around.

"Oh, my. Oh my. What have I done?" cried Duncy. "Still, it is lots of fun. I hope the animals don't hide where they can never be found."

"The zoo man will be mad at me. When he wakes up he will plainly see that one small cage is empty and, of course, I'll get the blame."

"I'll wake the Tynmites and then they'll help me catch the beasts again. I don't think there is much danger because the little beasts look tame."

He then ran to the Tynies and began to poke them with his hand. "Wake up. Wake up!" he shouted. "Funny beasts are running wild."

"I let them run out of their cage. The zoo man will fly in a rage." "Well, goodness sakes, you are a most annoying child," replied Scouty.

The zoo man had heard what they said. He jumped and shouted, "Go ahead and capture all the animals. Then I will not be mad."

"Back in the cage put every one. Right after them you'd better run. If even one should get away, for Duncy 'till be very, very sad."

So off the Tynies ran, and they found it was work, rather than play. The animals dashed here and there and one climbed up a tree.

Wee Windy went right after it and he was not afraid, one bit. He grabbed the little fellow, holding tight.

Then Scouty swung a little rope and loudly shouted, "Gee, I hope that I can do some lassoing. This trick to me is play."

He flung the rope out in the air. It very quickly landed where a small beast was. The beast was caught. It couldn't get away.

(The Tynies see a very peculiar elephant in the next story.)

Sidelights In News In Capital
Of United States

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—Two famed Ruths of congress are on the political stump again, but this time they are campaigning for the success of others.

Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, has started on an extensive speaking trip through the west for Governor Roosevelt. Ruth Hanna McCormick (now Mrs. Albert Sims) daughter of Mark Hanna, has agreed to take the stump in her adopted state of New Mexico for President Hoover.

Mrs. Owen was defeated for reelection to her seat in the House from Florida in the recent primaries, and after March 4 of next year will retire.

Mrs. Sims quit politics after being defeated for the Senate by "Jim Ham" Lewis. Shortly afterwards she married a former member of the House and went into virtual retirement at Albuquerque.

Mrs. Owen An Orator
The two women differ widely in their methods of appealing to an audience. Mrs. Owen is the orator. She has inherited much of the ability of her father.

Her deep, pleasant voice carries easily. At one time she taught public speaking at Miami university. She knows the tricks of oratory, and is an accomplished singer as well. She has a concertina and delights her friends by playing and singing some of the old songs she sang to wounded soldiers while a nurse in the world war.

Mrs. Sims relies on different tactics for her appeal. She is direct in her speeches. She goes at the game of politics in a cool, practical manner. She spent a good-sized fortune in her attempt to win a Senate seat in 1930, and resisted Senator Nye and his campaign expenditure investigators to the very last.

What of Their Futures?
The political futures of the two Ruths at the moment are not clear. That they have hopes, no one seems to doubt.

"OVEN MAN" IS BACK ON HIS FEET

Wins Fight with Death by Spending 16 Months in 103-Degree Heat

Jack Doty

He spent 16 months in this oven

By NEA Service

Memphis, Tenn.—Jack Doty, the oven man, is back on his feet after 16 months, or exactly 429 days, of torture and pain.

A black-haired six-footer with a smile that dreary days of suffering couldn't erase, he's able to get around on crutches now. And he's confident that it won't be long before he can go back to work.

Doty's case is unusual in medical annals. Doctors literally had to "bake" a new coating of skin on his back while he lay in an elastic oven here.

It all began when he was burned in an automobile accident on May 4, 1931. His entire back from his feet to his neck was seared; the middle section of his back was burned so badly that doctors feared it would not heal.

"Die?" Doty replied through lips drawn with pain when told of the gravity of his condition. "Not me. I'm going to fight. I'll show those doctors!"

For nine months he lay in the hospital on his stomach in a specially built oven set to a temperature of 103 degrees. Then they sent him home, with his oven, for seven months more.

In the meantime, flesh taken from other parts of Doty's body was grafted on his back. In time it grew there, and the back began to heal. Finally, a few days ago, Doty was able to leave his oven.

Doty's struggle against death attracted national attention. Letters poured in from all parts of the country. They were from folks who didn't know him, but who admired his stamina and courage.

These folks will be glad to learn now that Jack Doty is getting well. The doctors don't claim the credit for it; they're giving all the credit to Jack.

During the ceremony "Liebestraum" was played by Mrs. Stenstrom. Only immediate members of the family were present. The bride was attired in a gown of white lace and carried a bouquet of briarcliff roses and lilies of the valley. The bride's maid's dress was of rose color chiffon and she carried a bouquet of tulleman roses. After a wedding tea the bride couple left on a wedding trip to northern Wisconsin. Upon their return they will reside in the upper apartment of the Garard home and the groom who was admitted to the bar recently will open a law office.

BRITISH AIR DEEDS

On September 28, 1918, it was revealed that British war pilots had shot down 383 German airplanes on the western front during the first 27 days of the month.

German troops, in a determined counter-attack, were repulsed by American forces north of Dannevoix. French forces were successful in taking Fort Malmaison, southeast of Laon, and advancing in Champagne.

Belgian and British troops, welded into a compact unit, attacked on a 10-mile front in Flanders, and advanced more than three and a half miles from Dixmude to a point north of Ypres. 2nd- them anteh mantehm m

Give Your Child

This
ChanceA Wonderful New Way of Piano Teaching

It seems strange to many parents that their children learn to read in school today without knowing their "ABC's."

An equally astonishing change has taken place in piano teaching for beginners. THE MELODY WAY does away with the dull practice of scales and exercises. The children gather in classes and learn to play simple melodies. Many children play several melodies in two or three lessons. It's interesting, fascinating, inspiring. The children love it.

The Melody Way

gives every child a chance in music. The complete cost for lessons, equipment and everything for a whole term is only a few dollars. A piano is not necessary in the home. Think what a wonderful opportunity this is for your child. Thousands of children have learned to play the Melody Way. Eminent musicians, educators and teachers endorse this plan. Why not enroll your children at once and give them this chance in music? Write, Call or Phone for full information.

COURT BATTLES OVER INDIAN'S WEALTH ARE ON

Government Seeking Return Of Million To His Estate

Los Angeles, Sept. 27.—(AP)—A 90-year-old Creek Indian, Jackson Barnett, who signs checks for thousands of dollars with a thumb print, today was involved in another legal fight over his wealth, derived from Oklahoma oil lands.

Barnett was in court with his wife, Mrs. Anna Laura Lowe Barnett, as a result of the United States government's effort to force restoration of $1,000,000 to the Indian's estate. Of the amount $550,000 allegedly was given by Barnett to his wife.

While Barnett, adjudged an incompetent several years ago, appeared bewildered at the proceedings in the United States Commissioner's court, Mrs. Barnett was defiant and once marched her husband out of the court room.

"I will not give my deposition," she told court attaches. "I'll see how good the jail is first."

Mrs. Barnett was to take the stand at the completion of depositions in the suit of the government against Harold C. McGugin, attorney of Coffeyville, Kan., Nell Bird McGugin, the McGugin Investment Company and W. S. Keith to restore $150,000 to the estate. McGugin is a Kansas Congressman.

In addition to this suit by the government, as guardian of the Indian, and one to force Mrs. Barnett to restore $550,000, a third suit has been filed seeking the restoration of $300,000 from Mrs. Barnett and her daughter by a previous marriage, Maxine Sturges.

CURTIS PRAISES CHIEF

Parkersburg, W. Va., Sept. 27 (AP)—Vice President Charles Curtis continued his campaign through West Virginia today attending a rally at Point Pleasant, and dedication of a lock on the Kanawha river at Market. He will address a meeting in Charleston before returning to the west.

He opened the party electric drive here last night with a vigorous address in which he praised President Hoover as doing ten times as much to relieve economic distress as any of his predecessors who faced peace-time suffering.

Curtis cited relief measures sponsored by Hoover and said "I am thankful, even ardent Republican that I am, that the Democrats put patriotism above politics and supported these measures recommended by the President. In times of stress no political party has a monopoly on patriotism."

Boy Lincoln Statue Dedicated

AMERICA'S newest Lincoln shrine at Fort Wayne, Ind., was given to the world by the Lincoln National Life Foundation with colorful ceremonies September 16, at which Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde delivered the dedicatory address. The heroic bronze, created by Paul Manship, the noted sculptor, presents Lincoln as a youth of 21. Left to right—U. S. Senator James E. Watson; Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, pastor of the Washington, D. C., church where Lincoln worshipped when president; Secretary Hyde; Arthur F. Hall, president of the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company; Paul Manship, the sculptor, and Governor Harry G. Leslie of Indiana. The boy, Arthur F. Hall, 3rd, great-great-grandson of Hugh McCulloch, Secretary of the Treasury in Lincoln's cabinet, pulled the cord which unveiled the statue.

ECONOMY AND SPEED AIM OF NEXT CONGRESS

Chairman House Appropriations Committee Says So

Washington, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Economy and expedition were goals set today by Chairman Byrns of the House Appropriations committee in the handling of the big government supply bills during the coming session of congress.

As head of the powerful group that formulates the appropriation measures, Byrns said every effort would be made to cut government expenditures and thereby reduce the Treasury deficit. In addition, at least three of the bills are to be ready for immediate consideration when Congress convenes for the short session.

"Much important legislation will have to be considered by the coming Congress," the Tennessee Democrat said. "In order to clear the way for the other legislation, the Appropriations committee will begin hearings about the middle of November on the Treasury and Post Office $1,000,000,000 bill, the Agriculture and the Interior Department measures."

"If Director J. Clawson Roper of the Budget Bureau has the estimates ready we will be able to go forward expeditiously."

Byrns said that while no goal could be set now as to how much federal expenditures could be slashed for the fiscal year, 1934, the committee will "continue its successful effort for economy by making reductions wherever possible."

"I do not see how it will be possible to restore the salaries to federal employees that they enjoyed during the past year," Byrns said.

LOYALTY DEMANDED

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 27.—(AP)—A demand that Alfred E. Smith "display his loyalty by supporting Franklin D. Roosevelt for the presidency" was made today at the nominating convention of the Democratic party today by Prentiss M. Brown, temporary chairman.

"The Democrats of this state have a right to know where the ex-Governor of New York stands," he said in a speech, "and they have a right to expect him to return the loyalty Roosevelt displayed when Smith was a candidate."

MOUNTAINEER'S STORY OF BOMB BEING CHECKED

Officials Doubt A Tale
Told By Oregonian
Clearing Mooney

Portland, Ore., Sept. 28 —(AP)—Paul M. Callicotte, 32-year-old Oregon mountaineer, was held in jail without bond today after reportedly telling police he "thinks" he unwittingly placed the dynamite-laden suitcase which killed 10 persons and injured 42 in the 1916 San Francisco Preparedness Day parade.

Tom Mooney and Warren K. Billings are serving life sentences in California prisons for the bombing.

Although detectives said they were not inclined to give full credence to Callicotte's statement, they booked him as a fugitive from San Francisco and promised a full investigation.

Callicotte was quoted by police as saying he took the suitcase from a man in front of the Industrial Workers of the World Hall, in Oakland carried it across San Francisco Bay, delivered it to a man in San Francisco and at the latter's request placed it on the curb at the corner of Stewart and Market streets. It was at this point the suitcase-bomb exploded. Callicotte said he was paid $5 and did not know what the suitcase contained.

Tried To Sell Story

Because his parents were devout Seventh Day Adventists and would be hurt if they learned he worked on the Adventists' Sabbath, he said he did not reveal his story until last night. Two years ago, he said, he attempted to sell the story to an eastern magazine under an assumed name.

Callicotte said he told the story now because his parents were no longer alive and he wanted to clear his conscience.

Representatives of the Mooney Defense League, which for years has fought to clear Mooney's name, said it had spent much money tracing similar reports in the last fifteen years only to find they were valueless. However, they said they would investigate Callicotte's story.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

PUBLICITY
Publicity is the state of being public or open to common knowledge, or giving out that which will be of interest or knowledge to the public.

In other words, to make known, announce, proclaim or putting into print for sale or otherwise.

Through publicity we not only create but educate public sentiment.

The press is one of the mightiest forces in making or creating public sentiment. It is sometimes called the mirror of the people.

However we prohibitionists realize how we minded our metropolitan newspapers are and how prohibition facts are distorted or suppressed.

Perhaps if we who believe in a fair presentation of the truths and facts of prohibition in the news and editorials, would courteously express to these editors our loyalty to truth and our abhorrence of false attacks upon prohibition, it might help to dry out the wet propaganda.

Also write to editors who are fair and friendly to our cause our appreciation and support.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union has something of tremendous value to sell to the public—Prohibition. Law, Observance, Loyalty through Obeyance, to the Constitution of our great nation.

How are we to get our publicity? We must follow the same lines and somewhat the same methods as any business concern which has something to sell.

There are no spare parts in the human machinery, and enriched home life today secures and assures the enrichment of the life of tomorrow.

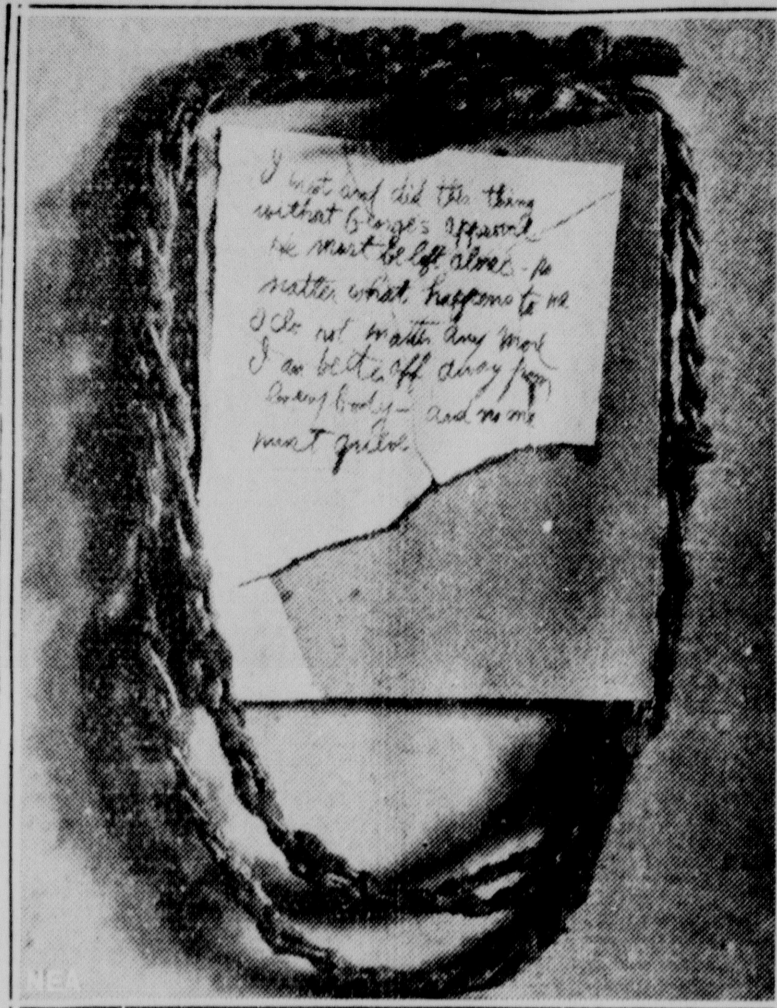

Prohibition has enriched life, and brought peace, joy and happiness to millions of people. We must keep it. We have a wonderful opportunity to educate the people to want prohibition through our publicity, but we must keep continually at it.

"Americanism"
What is Americanism? It is a difficult question to answer. The armies of the American Revolution were made up of all sorts of people. There were English, Scotch, Irish, Dutch, Germans and others. It is estimated more than fifty per cent of the American Army in the World War were foreigners.

The term American was applied originally to the aboriginal inhabitants of this country. It is now applied to the descendants of early settlers in these states.

Americanism is not something obtained by a fiat. It cannot be measured by a yardstick. It cannot be figured in dollars and cents. Food becomes organic tissue when assimilated. Assimilation of the un-digested masses in the United States will be brought about, not by fear, but by love; not by coercion, but by conversion.

Americanism is love and loyalty to America.

The great American spirit breathes liberty within law and obedience to all laws of the Constitution.

It inspires loyalty even unto death. It recognizes the rights and privileges of others.

Through the Constitution that guarantees protection of life and property and preservation of the 18th Amendment, holding fast to that which we have, and obedience to all laws, there is a strand of golden sympathy.

COMPTON NEWS

Compton—Peter Los arrived here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Florschuetz early last week, after returning from a visit with his mother, in the Netherlands. It had been twelve years since Mr. Los left his homeland for this country.

John S. Richardson, who had been confined to his bed here for the past three and one-half years, with a stroke, rallied early this week from a spell which threatened to be fatal.

Mr. and Mrs. William Geisinger left early this week for their home in Storm Lake, Iowa, after visiting here for the past week, with Mrs. Geisinger's brother, John S. Richardson.

Workmen while repairing the well at the Haefer home Saturday were frightened, when the fifty foot windmill tower collapsed and crashed to the ground. Although no one was injured, it was quite a shock to those working about the mill, to see the mass of structure shattering to the ground.

The Compton Oilers played their last game of the season, at Earlville Sunday, in the tournament, and lost to the Kakusha Parks in a ten-inning game 11 to 12. This makes the fourth time that the Parks and Oilers have met this season, winning two each. Arthur Chaon, pitched the entire route but were unable to overcome the throwing of Biers and Elmsor of the Kakusha. The management of the club extends appreciation of the loyal support of the fans during the past season.

Compton Woman's Club

The Compton Woman's Club held their meeting Monday evening, Sept. 19th, in the Methodist church. The program consisted of an entertainment, piano solo by Mrs. A. N. Anderson of Leand, Mrs. Anderson taught in the Indian schools in Northern California and in New Mexico for several years and brings to her hearers a better understanding of the problems of the Indians of today, and vivid pictures of their life and personalities. She showed examples of Indian handicraft, which was very interesting. It was announced that the October meeting will be in form of a picnic trip.

AUTO SALESMAN HELD FOR PART IN KIDNAP PLOT

Telephone Girl Furnished
Tip Which Led To His Arrest

BULLETIN

Kenosha, Wis., Sept. 28—(AP)—Jess Minkowski, proprietor of a Kenosha night club who was kidnapped Monday night, returned to his home at 4 A. M. today, none the worse for his experience.

Minkowski did not report his return to police until 8 A. M. He refused to tell where he had been or to name his abductors.

Chicago, Sept. 28 —(AP)—A man who identified himself as Ray Nolan, 32, a Chicago automobile salesman, was arrested today in suburban Glen Ellyn and held for investigation in connection with the kidnapping Monday of Jess Minkowski, 40, proprietor of a restaurant and dance hall at Kenosha, Wis.

Yesterday Mike Buffalo, one of Minkowski's employees, received a telephone call:

He was told: "We've got Jess. Tell his brother, Joe, to give us $25,000. Get it tonight."

No previous word had been received from Minkowski's abductors and, as no instructions for payment of ransom had been given, Kenosha police expected another call would be placed by the kidnapers.

The call to Buffalo was traced to Wheaton, Ill. Police there and in neighboring cities were asked to be on the lookout for another call to the Kenosha number. Telephone exchanges were notified.

Shortly after midnight a Glenn Ellyn telephone operator, Miss Anna Morris, received a call for the Kenosha number from an interurban station. She flashed the police and then kept the party waiting.

Police rushed to the interurban station. As they neared it a large car drove rapidly away. Dashing into the station, the police said, they met Nolan as he ran out of a telephone booth.

Nolan denied having placed the call to Kenosha. He said he had been visiting a girl in Glen Ellyn that evening.

DAILY HEALTH

OUR CHANGING DIET

A review of food habits and their role in shaping human history has given Professor Mendel of Yale university's department of physiological chemistry opportunity to contrast today's American dietary with that of a century ago.

In his article, "The Changing Diet of the American People," which appeared recently in the Journal of the American Medical Association, he cites in illustration the bill of fare for a banquet at the Irving House in San Francisco Dec. 6, 1851.

Eighty dishes were listed, these including two soups, two fish, 12 meats, six boiled meat dishes, 4 roasts, 10 vegetables, 10 game dishes, 18 pastries and 10 fruits and nuts, as well as other items.

The meat foods predominated in the early American dietary. Fresh fruits and vegetables were less plentiful.

Sugar was used primarily as a condiment. It is estimated that in 1823 the per capita consumption of sugar was a little less than nine pounds a year. At the present day the per capita consumption of sugar is approximately 180 pounds per year.

The present-day diet in certain directions is an improvement over that of former years, and in other directions is definitely more faulty.

Much present-day food is excessively refined. Approximately one-fifth of it is entirely lacking in vitamin content, and is without appreciable mineral content.

In compensation for this defect much emphasis has been placed in recent years on the necessity of including in the present-day diet vitamin and mineral-containing foods.

This propaganda has proved effective, for there has been a very marked increase in the consumption of citrus fruits, green and leafy vegetables, milk and milk products.

The result has been that there are signs of many of our adolescents growing more rapidly than in former generations and reaching maturity with larger and heavier frames than their progenitors.

MAYTOWN

By F. McFadden

Maytown—Forty hours devotion which opened at St. Patrick's church on Sunday, Sept. 18 with Rev. Fr. Charles of St. Bede's college, Peru, conducting the services, was brought to a solemn close on Tuesday evening with ten visiting priests from surrounding parishes in attendance. The services both morning and evening on all three days were well attended and Rev. Halmaier may feel proud of the faithfulness and devotion shown by his parishioners on this occasion. The inspiring sermon, preached by Rev. Charles gave us a clearer insight and deeper meaning to our religion, and endeavored in our hearts the determination to try just a wee bit harder to improve in the spiritual way.

Anthony McFadden has entered St. Norbert's college at Green Bay, Wis., this year.

Mrs. John McFadden of Dixon is visiting her brother Frank Murphy of this place.

Three of our former pastors, Rev. C. J. Kirkfleet of Somanok, Rev. Ivan Esser of Huntley and Rev. Henry M. Schmitz of Elsin were here Tuesday evening at the closing of the forty hours devotion.

Mrs. Thomas McGovern returned to her home here on Friday from the Dixon public hospital, much improved in health.

Marietta Fied entered the state teachers' college at DeKalb on Monday for her second year's work.

Mabel Ryan is visiting with her sister in Chicago.

FIVE POLITICAL LEADERS KILLED IN CUBA TUESDAY

Martial Law Is Declared
To Prevent Further Murders

Havana, Sept. 28 — (AP) — This city was under martial law today as police sought gunmen who yesterday murdered four of Cuba's prominent political leaders and inflicted fatal wounds upon a fifth, who died in the hospital today.

President Machado explained the decree of martial law was promulgated to prevent possible reprisals by friends of the five slain men.

Dr. Clemente Vazquez Bello, friend of Machado, president of the Senate, and prospective candidate for the presidency of Cuba, died in a rain of machine gun bullets from a passing automobile.

Shortly afterward, three brothers, Gonzalo, Guillermo and Leopoldo Freyre de Andrade, political opponents of Dr. Vazquez Bello and the Machado regime were slain in their home.

Investigators described their killing as an act of reprisal by friends of the dead Senate chief.

Police were seeking a man named Agustin Alvarez, who, they said, was the owner of the car which bore the machine gunners.

Representative Miguel Angel Aguilar, who participated in the unsuccessful revolt against the Machado government in August, last year, was wounded four times in a third shooting. He died this morning.

The PICTURE on a POSTAGE STAMP, SHOWING THE NICARAGUAN VOLCANO, MONTECIMBO, IN ACTION, INFLUENCED UNUSUALLY NOT TO BUY CANAL RIGHTS THROUGH NICARAGUA HE BOUGHT THE INCOMPLETE PANAMA CANAL INSTEAD.

Philippe Bunau-Varilla, a representative of the French government, wanted the United States to buy the Panama Canal rights from France. Instead of building a canal through Nicaragua he insisted that the Nicaraguan location was dangerous because of active volcanoes. The Nicaraguan government denied this, saying that there had been no active volcanoes there for years. M. Bunau-Varilla then secured 90 Nicaraguan postage stamps, 1900 issue, showing the volcano, Momotombo in violent eruption. He mailed these to United States Senators who were voting on the canal question. The Panama location won by the narrow majority of eight votes.

WOMEN DEFIED GUARDS: LAND IN TOVEY JAIL

Disobeyed Order Given To "Move On" In Mine Zone

Taylorville, Ill., Sept. 28 —(AP)—Military authorities today were holding two young women as prisoners.

They were arrested by National Guardsmen at Tovey last night and brought to the county jail here. Guardsmen charged the two had refused to obey an order to "move on" when they broke up a demonstration of coal miners with tear gas bombs.

The prisoners were: Anna Puttelli, 20, and Lena Rabini, 18, both of Tovey.

As mass meetings are not allowed in Christian county since the miners' factional strife resulted in the presence of troops, a party of Tovey miners, accompanied by members of their women's auxiliary went to Nakomis in neighboring Montgomery county last night to attend a meeting sponsored by the Progressive Miners of America.

Returning home last night the miners decided to stage a demonstration in their own village. A National Guard detail ordered them to disperse. Meeting with refusal the Guardsmen tossed a few tear gas bombs into the group and all, with the exception of the two young women, started for their homes.

The two women, the Guardsmen reported sought to remain and heckle the soldiers.

Habeas Corpus petitions directed against Captain C. R. Meacham of Decatur, in command of National Guard troops at Taylorville on behalf of eleven strikers who charged that they were kidnapped, will be argued in Christian county Circuit Court here Friday afternoon. The eleven strikers are out on bond.

Charged By Crowd They were produced in court late yesterday to the loud acclaim of a crowd of sympathizers which filled the Circuit Court room.

Their lawyers, D. W. Johnson and Lee W. Reese of Taylorville had requested in a conference held previously to file no further habeas corpus petitions until after Friday's showing in court.

At that time the force of habeas corpus petitions as directed against the military will be argued.

This morning fourteen more miners returned to work at the Peabody Mine at Langleyville, bringing the total number to 374. There were twenty-five present from Dixon, Sterling and Amboy.

CALL of the WEST

BY R. G. MONTGOMERY

BEGIN HERE TODAY STAN BALL, an agent for cattle interests, faces ASPER DELA in his office. Ball accuses Dela of having men shot who are sent out to check his timbering activities at Three Rivers. Ball says he is making a personal check. Dela says he will personally see that Ball does not make the check.

Upon leaving Dela's office, Ball saves a girl from kidnapping. She proves to be Dela's daughter, DONA. When Ball learns her name he tells her he is STANLEY BLACK and slips away. She sees DUDLEY WINTERS, in love with Dona, agree to go to Three Rivers and get Dela to come to their first stop Dudley produces a marriage license and urges Dona to marry him, warning that Dela will not go on a manhunt if they do. Dona barely misses the midnight meeting. Ball on his way to Three Rivers.

At the camp, SWERGIN, Asper's timber boss, tries to make Dona stay in camp. She slips away from men he has ordered to watch her and rides. She sees her father attacked and shot. Swergin comes to her rescue. Dudley and Swergin both warn her not to ride alone as Ball will attack her as he has her father. Dona goes out again and when she starts back finds she is followed.

Now Go On With The Story CHAPTER XIII AS the realization came to Dona that she was not armed she set her spurs deep into the roan's flanks. She would give her pursuer a race he would remember. The roan flattened his ears and leaped away. Dona did not try to guide his swift stride nor did she pull in his bit. Her lips were parted and her eyes sparkled with the zest of her run.

Down through the young spruce the roan thundered, his steelshod hoofs showering loose stones from the trail. Dona could hear her pursuer racing along through the second-growth timber on her left. He was riding a good horse because the roan was sprinting at a terrific speed but was not pulling away.

The rider on the left edged ahead, then suddenly burst from cover and gripped her reins. As he swung to grip her reins she gave a gasp of surprise. The rider was Swergin and he was plainly angry. Dona felt a flush of color mount into her cheeks as she met his eyes. What right had he to stop her?

Swergin pulled the roan to a panting halt. "Didn't I tell you not to ride out of camp?" he snapped. "Just when did you start giving me orders?" Dona was suddenly very angry.

Swergin jerked the roan's head up. "I'm taking you back to camp," he stated grimly. "You are not! I am returning to camp when I get ready."

Dona's temper was roused. Swergin had apparently ridden out simply to bring her back. If there had been any apparent danger she might have gone back with him but his attitude seemed unreasonable.

Swergin sensed her objection. "You heard those shots?" "Dona suddenly remembered the rifle shots and nodded. She was still angry but she wanted to know who had done the shooting.

"I came upon Ball. He was trailing you. We had a little argument with lead." Swergin's lips twisted into a half snarl. "Did you hit him?" Dona asked eagerly, her anger forgotten for the second.

"I must have winged him. He went out of the picture right now. Next time I'll drill him clean." Swergin's little eyes lighted up queerly.

"We'll have to go back and find him," Dona spoke her decision. She wanted to see Ball and this seemed a fine chance to capture him.

"I'm taking you back to camp. Then I'll come out and finish the job I started." Swergin pulled up on the roan's head and made as if to start toward camp.

Dona's anger flared up again. "We're going to bring that man in! You act as though I were incompetent or a child." With a jerk she freed the roan's head and set him back on his hind feet.

Swergin leaned far out of his saddle and with one huge arm swept Dona clear of her saddle. With the other hand he cut the roan smartly across the hips with his saddle quirt. The horse snorted and leaped away and Dona found herself swept to the saddle in front of Swergin.

Her struggles did not disturb his solid balance in the least. Grimly he pushed his horse down the trail while Dona choked down her wrath and kept silent. There was little use in arguing with the big timber boss.

They rode into camp and up to the wide porch in front of the main building. Dudley came running down the steps as he saw them coming. He held up his arms to Dona but she slid to the ground unaided. Like a flash she whirled upon her uninvited rescuer. Her blue eyes blazed black and she swung the light quirt that hung at her wrist. With a wicked snap she slashed out with it and struck Swergin across the cheek. The rawhide lashes on the quirt left purple welts across his wind-hardened skin.

Swergin did not move a muscle but his eyes hardened. Slowly his lips pulled into a grin. "You're a little hell-cat when you can't have your way," he said slowly.

Dudley, who had stepped back at Dona's sudden action, crowded close to Swergin's stirrup. "What have you been up to?" he flared.

SWERGIN bent low and his grin vanished. "If you had any brains or any sand you'd watch this kid and keep her out of the timber. I ought to plant one right on your pretty nose! You need something to bring you around."

Dudley opened his mouth twice but he was too angry to speak. Dona pulled him back.

"We're going inside, Dud. I'll settle with this fellow later."

Swergin bowed and rode away without any trace of concern. Dona unable to control herself, burst out. "He acts as though he owned the works at Three Rivers!"

"I would have taken a punch at him but he has been of service to you and your father," Dudley grinned. "Boy, you're a knockout when you're mad, D!"

Dona halted just inside the door. She held Dudley away with one hand while she smoothed her wind-ruffled hair with the other. Her anger vanished rapidly and she joined Dudley's laugh.

"I guess I'll have to take it all back and be nice to him. But the way he bosses me around makes me furious. We owe him so much I'll have to take it, I guess. I'm sorry I slapped him."

"Slapped?" Dudley screwed his mouth into a comical twist. "Don't ever slap me!"

"It didn't even make him flinch." "What was the beginning of all this?" Dudley demanded.

"Swergin caught our bad man, Ball, trailing me and wounded him. I wanted to stay and help him capture the outlaw but he packed me home." Dona explained briefly.

"I agree with him. From now on you stay in camp!" Dudley tried to appear masterful.

"And you get the same answer as Swergin—no!" Dona turned and walked to her father's room.

ASPER was awake and very restless. He greeted Dona with a question as she entered. "Have they got Ball yet?"

"No, Dad, but Swergin wounded him and is on his way right now to

School Notes
The Annual Vocational Agricultural Fair was held at Polo a week ago. Eighteen high schools in Section 1, from northern Illinois witnessed the exhibit of over 500 head of livestock, displayed by boys taking agricultural courses, the largest being swine. Although Franklin Grove was not eligible to compete this year, they will be eligible next year.

The fair is held in conjunction with the Fall Festival, which is sponsored by the Woman's Club and the prize money is furnished by the state from taxes raised in horse racing.

All the boys taking agricultural courses at the local high school attended the fair in order that they might become better acquainted with some of the activities of the department.

All the pupils of the first room as well as many of the teachers and students of upper grades have shown much interest in the development of a "Cinder Plant," which the primary teacher and the children made from coal, salt, water, bluing, mercurchrome and iodine. By setting it in the sun, a beautiful crystal formation appears and builds up, seeming to grow almost like a live plant.

The Dramatic Club was organized last week at the school. The following officers were elected: President—Barbara Krehl. Vice President—Barbara Krehl. Secretary, Treasurer—Muriel Weybright.

More students are expected to enroll in the club before the next meeting which will be held September 29.

Joseph Kauffman of Compton and Roy J. Krug of Ashton expect a large consignment of feeder lambs the latter part of this week at the Ashton sheep yards. The lambs are to be let out to the local farmers on a very liberal feeding contract. In years past, a very good profit has been realized in the handling of lambs in this way by the farmers of the community.

Carlson D. Cross who has been driving the north of town school bus had to get a new one which came last Saturday. There are so many pupils coming to the Ashton school from the country districts that with the additional hauling capacity the buses will be filled. This speaks volumes for the way the Ashton high school is being administered by the teachers and school board.
